One Day Conference, Thursday 27th October 2022

Do you work in education, early years, primary or secondary, social care, or with a child & adolescent support organisation?
Do you want to learn how to best educate and support our most vulnerable children impacted by trauma?

Join us for this exciting conference delivered by enthusiastic, inspiring key experts and practitioners who will provide you with knowledge updates and a better understanding on childhood trauma and adversity and how it affects behaviour.

If you support or educate children affected by childhood trauma you'll understand the impact this has on their long term prospects and how it can shape their learning, attendance, attainment, relationships & expectations. We understand the challenges that educators, social care & support workers face when dealing with childhood trauma, often masked by challenging behaviour. The strategies and ideas shared by our speakers will help you to better understand those children and to improve their outcomes.

Great Reasons To Attend

- Gain fresh understanding of the relationship between childhood trauma and behaviour
- Increase your confidence & skills to best support the most vulnerable children
- Takeaway practical ideas, strategies and resources that you can use immediately
- Handpicked key experts delivering informative and fun learning
- Share best practice and network in person with other professionals
- Certificates of Attendance
- Download speaker's presentations and gain educational resources
- Go back to your workplace re-energised and inspired

Who Should Attend?

This practical conference is a must attend event for those working in education (0 – 25 years) as well as those working in social care & health settings and support organisations.

Conference Programme

0845 – 0925	Registration and refreshments on arrival
0925 – 0930	Introduction and welcome [Chair]
0930 – 1010	Childhood trauma and the behaviours that challenge • Understanding childhood trauma and how trauma can impact on behaviour • Approaches to low level challenging behaviour & how best to respond Tony France , Director, Headsight Services UK
1010 – 1015	Questions
1015 – 1055	Responding to distress presenting as challenging behaviour in children with a learning disability and / or autism using a trauma informed lens. Children with a learning disability and / or autism are significantly more likely to be exposed to experiences which may cause trauma but the impact of trauma is often missed due to a lack of awareness and diagnostic overshadowing leading sometimes to interventions that may compound harm rather than promote healing. Trauma informed practice is thus critically needed in this population. Dr Brodie Paterson , Consultant trainer
1055 – 1105	Questions and discussion
1105 – 1130	Refreshments
1130 – 1200	Supporting young people's mental wellbeing post-COVID Christine will talk about the concept of trauma within the post-COVID era as well as the importance of attachment theory and emotional literacy Dr Christine Hadfield , Lecturer, School of Education, University of Glasgow
1200 – 1205	Questions
1205 – 1235	Nurture: A whole school approach -How to create, safe, relationally wealthy, supportive, nurturing, trauma informed responsive environments into your school community. -The benefits of implementing interventions such as nurture, resilience, self-regulation and mindfulness. Gerry Diamond , Teacher of Nurture, Clydebank High School
1235 - 1245	Questions and discussion

1245 – 1335	Lunch
1335 – 1340	Introduction and welcome [Chair] (As Before)
1340 – 1410	'Harmful & problematic sexual behaviour – Ways to support children & young people' -An overview of sexual behaviour in children & young people -Ways to promote a child centred approach -The impact of technology on sexual behaviour David Russell , Community Safety & Justice Manager, Midlothian Council
1410 – 1415	Questions
1415 – 1445	"It's All My Fault" - Ashamed and Afraid Children who experience trauma often feel shame, a chronic feeling or emotional state of feeling bad, worthless, inferior, and fundamentally flawed. Left unaddressed these feelings can persist into adulthood. Tony will discuss the link between shame and trauma, impact on behaviour and what we can do to help children build resilience to shame. Tony France , (as before)
1445 – 1455	Stretch and fruit juice break
1455 – 1525	Keeping the child at the centre: Using psychological formulation to respond to developmental trauma and adversity within early years residential care Formulation is a dynamic and collaborative process, used to support the team around the child to develop a shared understanding of their complex needs and inform the child-centred supports and therapeutic interventions provided. Dr Lise Forsyth , Clinical Psychologist & Sarah Doe , Art Therapist, Kibble
1525 – 1555	"You just didn't see me." Natalie will provide you with her own personal story reeling from one adverse childhood experience to another and what helped her when all around was chaos. Natalie Logan Maclean , CEO, SISCO
1555 – 1610	Questions, discussion and approx. close
